MARVIN MALTON 160 ROUND, AN ICON IS BORN

In tribute to its 160th anniversary, Marvin has derived creative inspiration from the powerful soul of its timeless watchmaking codes.

This elegant, understated and modern timepiece exalts the pleasure of wearing a high-quality watch enriched with horological expertise and yet reasonably priced – because elegance is beyond price!

The Malton line is rooted in the brand's rich history, since the name was registered in 1906 and used in particular for an exclusive Malton collection that earned international fame.

The Malton 160 round variation sets a dynamic tempo for this iconic collection that strikes a perfect balance between upstrokes and downstrokes, varied levels and complementary surface treatments. The flowing lines compose a refined and pared-down architectural design.

The four models in the new line all exude the same spirit conveyed through the beautiful simplicity of the round case, the elegance of the broad dial opening, the understated decoration, and the refined manner of interpreting the four movement variations.

Two creative talents are behind this watch. Firstly, the Neuchâtel-born designer Sébastien Perret, who has accompanied all the Marvin collections since the brand was reborn. He embodies the passion of a confirmed talent, displaying technical mastery mingled with an almost “physical” approach to watchmaking that leads him to draw his models by hand throughout the design phase, before proceeding to the indispensable computer modelling processes. And secondly, the repeatedly recognised experience of Jean-François Ruchonnet, a name well known among collectors for his successful career, which has included numerous creations for prestigious fine watch brands. He is now cooperating with Marvin by instilling the brand with his creative genius – a distinctive blend of considerable know-how, subtle intuition, instinctive flair for products and keen awareness of customer requirements. This passionate individual is engaged in the tireless pursuit of fine watch creations.

Jean-François Ruchonnet, Sébastien Perret ... This winning alliance dedicated to Marvin is no coincidental or one-off occurrence, and the two designers of the Malton 160 line are indeed already working on new watch icons.

This newcomer to the Marvin collection is interpreted through four variations: one with a Dubois Dépraz 14070 movement, a high-end watch with a regulator-type display; another powered by an ETA 2897 movement with power-reserve display; a third with an SW 200 three-hand movement with date display; and finally a model driven by a Ronda 7004B quartz movement with two hands, small seconds and a large date display.

Produced in the finest watchmaking workshops, the Malton 160 round watches are water-resistant to 50 metres and guaranteed for two years.

MARVIN MALTON 160 ROUND, AN ICON IS BORN

In tribute to its 160th anniversary, Marvin has derived creative inspiration from the powerful soul of its timeless watchmaking codes in launching the first series of an iconic Malton 160 collection. The name Malton dates back to 1906, when the brand launched an exclusive collection that was to earn international fame.

This spirit has inspired the beautiful simplicity of the round case, the elegance of the broad dial opening, the understated decoration, as well as the refined manner of interpreting the four movement variations. The latter comprise a Dubois Dépraz 14070 regulator-type self-winding movement; a self-winding ETA 2897 movement with power-reserve display; an SW 200 three-hand self-winding movement with date display; and finally a two-hand Ronda 7004B quartz movement with small seconds and a large date display.

Two renowned creative talents – designer Sébastien Perret and watchmaker Jean-François Ruchonnet, a name well known to collectors – have infused it with a truly distinctive spirit. This new alliance dedicated to Marvin will doubtless give rise to other iconic collections.
