

1 February 2011,

Marvin is looking for independent sales representatives for certain areas in the United Kingdom.

You are a sales professional with at least ten years of experience in the watch and jewellery sector and are recognized by watch and jewellery retailers in your geographical area. You are seeking the opportunity to add a flourishing brand to your portfolio and to participate in its development.

We are offering you a collection of watches that has established its position in terms of design, quality and price, along with dynamic and effective brand support and a motivating performance-linked remuneration package.

Please apply only if you meet the criteria set out above.

Opportunities are open in several regions in the UK.

If you are interested in this challenge, please submit your application to agents@marvinwatches.com (CV, photo, geographical zone, brands represented).
